Listening Books provides a high-quality, affordable online and postal audiobook library service for organisations such as care homes that support anyone who struggles to read in the usual way due to an illness or disability such as arthritis or macular degeneration.

As a charity, we are able to offer low-cost memberships to organisations:

£75 per year gives you unlimited access to our MP3 CD library service with four audiobooks on loan at any one time

This package will also give your residents access to our online Downloadable service. For more information on this service and other available packages please contact the library on 020 7407 9417 or email library@listening-books.org.uk.

MP3 CDs through the post

- MP3 CDs look just like standard CDs and can play on modern CD players, computers and DVD players.
- Your organisation will have access to our full library of MP3 CDs delivered straight to your door.
- All postage and packaging is included in the cost and there are no late fees.
- Choose the titles you would like, or let our library team make a list for you.
- Borrow four or more MP3 CD audiobooks at any one time, and exchange them as often as you like throughout your membership. When you send a title back, we will send you another.
- A fantastic selection of fiction and non-fiction books is available.

Our titles

- The Listening Books library has a vast selection of audiobooks for adults who struggle to read.
- All of the titles are either commercially sourced or professionally recorded in-house to the highest quality.
- Whether you're a lover of literature for learning or leisure, there is something to suit all tastes across a range of subjects and genres including crime, classics, contemporary novels, travel and history.

- Popular titles include recent chart topper Before I Go to Sleep by S. J. Watson, worldwide phenomenon The Da Vinci Code by Dan Brown and various titles by M. C. Beaton, one of the most borrowed authors in the UK. In our library you'll also find Death Comes to Pemberley, the latest P. D. James novel to grace bookshelves as well as books by many popular authors such as Ruth Rendell, Agatha Christie, Jack Higgins, Alan Bennett, Maeve Binchy, Lee Child, Sophie Kinsella, Marian Keyes, Dick Francis, Miss Read and Catherine Cookson to name just a few!
- You can view our full catalogue by following this link <http://www.listening-books.org.uk/library.aspx> and searching by title, genre or author.

Benefits of the service

- Our service not only provides a link to the wonderful world of books but is often a relief from pain, boredom and loneliness.
- For many of our members who cannot hold a book, our service is a lifeline, a friend and a comfort, lifting them out of what are often challenging circumstances.
- Access to literature can help counteract the social exclusion which can be felt by a number of people over the age of 65 who experience reading difficulties due to an age-related illness or disability.

“Being told stories is a very basic pleasure from childhood onward and I should encourage anyone who loves to listen - to be informed, amused, entertained, exalted and elevated by the spoken word - to join Listening Books!”

Polly, member of Listening Books
